

MURPHY MAY BE CALLED TO STAND

TAMMANY LEADER WILL LIKELY TESTIFY IN SULZER IM-PEACHMENT.

COUNSEL IS VERY CONFIDENT

Declare That Efforts to Pass Additional Articles is Admissin of Fear.

Albany, Sept. 21.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, whom Governor Sulzer accuses of having investigated his impeachment, will be forced to take the witness stand practically in his own defense before the impeachment trial is over, in the opinion tonight of the governor's close friends.

They say the governor will take the stand and that his story will compel the attorneys for the impeachment managers to call the Tammany leader.
What revelations the governor may make is unknown. All attempts to interview him on his expected testimony have been futile, but his friends profess to know that no influence can prevent him from testifying in event that constitutional objections raised by his attorneys to prevent the case from coming to trial are overruled.

The governor's counsel tonight would not discuss the possibility of Mr. Murphy or anyone else being called as a witness while argument on these objections, to be resumed tomorrow, before the high court of impeachment, is pending. It was, however, recalled tonight that after the governor's so-called break with Murphy last June the governor publicly charged that the Tammany leader "was behind a conspiracy to blacken my character because I refused to do his bidding."

A growing spirit of confidence in the governor's attorneys will continue the fact that the board of managers is attempting to pass additional articles of impeachment is asserted by the governor's followers to be an admission that they fear they have not established a case. The board of managers laugh at this assertion, saying they feel it is only just that all the evidence they have against the governor should be produced.

When the court convenes tomorrow
the governor's attorneys will continue their legal fight started Friday by attorney Louis Marshall on three objections raised against the legality of the impeachment charges. Mr. Marshall's argument and the answer of the governor's attorneys are expected to occupy most of the day.

Should the court rule adversely to the defense on these points the governor's attorney will then move to strike out three of the articles of impeachment which have to do with the receipt and expenditure of money by the governor.

The taking of evidence for the prosecution, in event all technicalities are overruled, is expected to begin Wednesday but the initial testimony probably will be perfunctory in character.

Mrs. Sulzer Will Testify.
Nothing short of death can prevent Governor Sulzer and his wife from testifying in his impeachment trial, if the constitutional objections of his attorneys to the proceedings are overruled. This statement came tonight from an absolutely unquestionable source. It followed weeks of speculation as to whether either of them would testify.

Friends of the governor have advised him on this point. Many have insisted that he ignore the proceedings entirely insofar as being present himself was concerned. Others have insisted that even if the governor decided to testify he should not permit
Mrs. Sulzer to tell her story.

But the governor has maintained from the start that he will tell his story of the alleged conspiracy which he insists brought about his impeachment.

Mrs. Sulzer's testimony has been considered too vital to the case of the defense to permit her to remain silent.

The governor has made the most extensive preparations for the presentation of his testimony. It will take the form of a narrative from the time, soon after his election, when he was elected, Tammany Hall and others began to bring pressure upon him to do their bidding.

He hopes to show, it is understood, that gradually he incurred the enmity of many of the men back of the presents, and that the final stroke came when he proved a hopeless tool. From that point he will narrate incidents that he believes will show the gradual crystallization of the impeachment proceedings, it is said.

Granddaughter of Late J. P. Morgan and Her Dandie Dinmont Terrier Jean at Lenox Dog Show

When Miss Ethel Satterlee, granddaughter of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, was asked by photographers at the Lenox dog show to pose for her photograph she quickly consented. This was a case where the professional photographer taught the rich a lesson.
A year ago when the Satterlee children were seen in public saying goodbye to their grandfather on one of his European trips they made faces at the camera man. He caught them in time.
The result was that there were sculps over the country pictures of the children with their tongues sticking out in derision. Scores of newspapers published them. What happened in the Satterlee and Morgan households when these pictures were seen is not known, but the young ladies have not since made an attempt to avoid the camera.

FROST IN THE EAST WEATHER NO FACTOR

CENTRAL VALLEYS, TENNESSEE AND SURROUNDING STATES
COOL.

Prediction for Week Show Generally Fair Weather—Warm in West.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Fair weather generally for the entire country is promised by the weather bureau for the coming week. Chief Marvin in his weekly forecast issued today, says:

"Cool weather will prevail east of the Mississippi river during the early part of the week. There will be frost Monday morning in the great central valleys, the upper lake region and western lower lake region. Tennessee and the extreme northern portions of the east gulf states and on Tuesday morning in the Ohio valley, the lake region, New England, the middle Atlantic states and possibly the interior of North Carolina and northern South Carolina. These frosts will probably be heavy over the northern tier of states.

"It will be warmer early in the week west of the Mississippi by Tuesday or Wednesday in the central portion of the country and Thursday or Friday over the districts. There are no present indications of decided changes over the week during the second half of the week.

"The week as a whole will be one of fair weather. There will be rains Monday in New England and the north Pacific states, but no other precipitation except possibly some showers about Tuesday in the northwest and some local showers Monday and Tuesday in eastern and southern Florida."

Temple Cotton.
The report of the special agent of the United States census bureau in Bell county, a total of 15,922 bales of cotton was gained from the opening of the present season to September 1, 1913, as compared with 18,351 gained to the same period of last year, a decrease for 1913 of 2,429 bales. The ginning season this year opened about August 13 and the totals represent the ginnings of fifteen working days. The higher prices received this season as compared with last more than compensated farmers for the shortage in the crop.

She finally drifted broadside through between two heavily grounded icebergs with but a few feet to spare at either end and worked around into clear water and anchored to the eastward of the point.

This was the Bear's annual cruise on a mission of justice and mercy, enforcing the law and punishing offenders through the United States commissioner and marshal aboard and dispensing medical aid and assistance to the sick and needy. At Point Hope the Bear found a native with a broken leg which it was necessary to ampu-tate. Surgeons sawed off the limb and the ship's carpenter made the injured man a wooden leg.

The parcel post has found its way to Alaska. Captain Hallinger reported that the new mail service is being utilized by the natives in sending fox skins to Seattle.
"Taking them all around," concluded Captain Hallinger, "the native villagers within the Arctic could be held up as models, so far as law and order is concerned, to places of equal size in any other country in the world."

LAWYERS ARRIVING CONTROL WILL BE PUT TO TEST

FORMIDABLE ARRAY OF LEGAL TALENT WILL HANDLE
THAW'S FIGHT.

All Are Agreed as to Method of Procedure—Judge Chase to Make Only Argument.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 21.—Eleven lawyers from four states and the Dominion of Canada were in Concord today and more are supposed to be on the way here to help Harry K. Thaw resist the efforts of the state of New York to obtain his return to the Mat-tewan asylum. Without a dissenting vote the attorneys declared tonight that there was perfect agreement among them as to the presentation of their case Tuesday when Jerome of New York appears before the governor for a hearing on the petition for extradition.

No official statement was made by Thaw or any of his lawyers tonight, it is understood, that the principal, if not the only argument in Thaw's behalf will be made by Judge Wm. M.
Chase of Concord. Besides Judge Chase, Thaw's legal array today included W. C. McKeown of Montreal, former Governor Stone of Pennsylvania, Messrs. Grossman, Olmstead, Verhaas and Zelig of New York; Joseph O'Connell of Boston, and Messrs.
Martin, Shurtliff and Donigan of New Hampshire.

None of Thaw's family had arrived tonight but the fugitive said he expected his mother and brother here tomorrow.
A continuation of bad weather kept Thaw in doors today. He spent the day answering his voluminous correspondence, reading law and conferring with his legal force.

Ejected From Car Negro Shoots Three

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 21.—Angered because he was ejected from a street car tonight, almost in the center of the city, George Davis, a negro, aged 43, whipped an automatic pistol from his pocket and began firing. Three men were shot and one of them may die.
Davis dashed away, pursued by two policemen and after several shots were exchanged by the officers and the fugitive the latter was captured. A bullet broke his left arm. A tremendous crowd gathered while officers, waiting for a patrol wagon, held the negro.

Several people cried "Lynch him."
After hard work the police succeeded in getting their prisoner to a station, but not until the latter had been severely battered by stones and fists.
Paul Fajonius, one of the victims, was shot just above the heart. The other men whom bullets hit were wounded in the leg and ankle.

WOMEN PINNED TOGETHER.

Barn Unroofed Timber Transfixes
Two.

York, Pa., Sept. 21.—When a barn on a farm near this city was unroofed tonight Mrs. Levi Shenk and Mrs. Geo.
Sipe were transfixes on a piece of timber and still pinned together were brought to the York hospital in an automobile. Their condition is serious. The timber entered the left arm of Mrs. Shenk and passing through, penetrated the abdominal cavity of Mrs.
Sipe, coming out through her back.
The accident occurred during a terrible rain and wind storm which did much damage.

Callesano Dies.
Milan, Italy, Sept. 21.—The Italian minister of posts and telegraphs, T.
Callesano, died today at a banquet while delivering a speech. Death was due to heart disease.

COTTON CROP REPORT.

New Orleans, Sept. 21.—The Times-Democrat herewith presents the reports of its correspondents on the cotton crop as of September 16. The consensus of opinion is to the following effect:

1. Sharp deterioration has been the rule and in some sections a radical change has occurred.
2. The boll weevil has done serious damage in Louisiana, and Mississippi, but the loss seems to have been less than was feared elsewhere.
3. Many correspondents refer to scarcity of pickers, the migration of labor having been considerable.
4. Farmers seem generally disposed to sell at current prices, at least enough to meet all obligations, but there will probably be a strong holding movement a little later on.
5. Recent rains have distinctly lowered the grade, the effect on the yield in Texas and Oklahoma is problematical as yet, for much will depend on the date of killing frost.

Weather indications as recorded by Dr. L. Block, local volunteer observer last night, were for fair and warmer today. High barometer pressure was observed moving to the northeast and low pressure coming into Texas, but not in sufficiently dense volume for precipitation. The barometer pressure should bring a south wind, which will mean rising temperature.

Local Temperatures.
Range of thermometer yesterday, as recorded by Dr. Block: Maximum 77°; minimum 51, barometer 30.07, humidity 50. Total wind passage 132 miles, the highest wind being 13 miles, which was between 3 and 4 p. m.

Government Forecast.
Washington, Sept. 21.—Louisiana—
Fair Monday, warmer in interior;
Tuesday fair.
Waco and vicinity—Fair Monday, warmer north portion; Tuesday fair, light variable winds.
West Texas—Fair Monday and Tuesday.

CONTROL WILL BE PUT TO TEST

THIS WEEK WILL SHOW WHETH-ER WILSON CAN SWING PARTY LEGISLATION.

WILL URGE CURRENCY PASSAGE

Democrats Have Seven in Senate Committee Against Five—One Delection Serious.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The strongest test of President Wilson's control over party policies, and over the legislative performances of congress is about to occur. Within the last week he has seen the triumph in the house of his currency reform demands and the practical completion of the tariff revision bill, so far as administration ideas are connected with it.

The question now paramount in political circles bears directly on the president's potential control over currency reform situation in the senate. Except for those immediately connected with the handling of the currency bill the general query is:

Will the president be able to induce the senate to act on the Glass-Steag-er bill without delay and without the material alteration of its provisions?
No doubt remains of the determined purpose of the president to urge congress, by every legitimate means at his command, to complete the currency legislation within the next few weeks and to give the country a new banking system and a revised form of paper currency before December.

Wilson Concerned.
Evidence of his concern in the matter have come in a series of events the action of congressional leaders.
Over a week ago, after a conference with Mr. Wilson, Democratic leaders in the senate announced that the consideration of currency reform would be pushed without delay in the senate and that there would be no senate recess.

A growing demand in the house for a month's recess to be introduced this week culminated a few days ago when Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, one of the democratic house leaders, called on President Wilson, and announced that the house would not recess for more than three days at a time, but would remain close at hand where its influence could be exercised on the senate, if desirable, to speed up that body's work on the currency bill.

The president has gone further in his activity in behalf of the currency bill and has talked at length with individual members of the senate banking and currency committee, who had been strong critics of the administration's policy. With the aid of Secretary McAdoo, who helped in the original preparation of the bill, it is understood that he will attempt to satisfy the critics and will endeavor to bring the democratic forces into united support of the plan embodied in the bill.

Independence in Expression.
Thus far there has been marked independence of expression among democratic senators engaged in working on the currency bill as to important points of currency legislation.

Chairman Owen last week and still under way and will continue through part of this week. The actual committee work on the bill probably will begin late this week and will develop for the first time the real strength in the committee in support of the president's plan for immediate endorsement of the bill.

There is apparently no spirit of an-tagonism to currency legislation among the leaders of either party in the senate, but the wide difference of opinion as to the best methods of revising the banking and currency system, will bring the test of strength in which senate leaders expect President Wilson's influence will be brought into the situation.

A striking feature of the situation in the senate will be the vote of a democratic member of the banking and currency committee would be sufficient to prevent the committee from favorably reporting the currency bill.
There are seven democrats and five republicans on the committee. The republicans almost, without exception, have expressed the belief that a thorough study of currency reform is needed and the careful preparation of a bill to enact a new system would require more time than the tariff extra session could give during the present extra session.

All Data at Hand.
Chairman Owen and one or two other democrats on the committee have in the last few days declared they believed senators who have been studying the question have at hand all the information necessary for immediate consideration of a currency bill, and that no good could be accomplished through further delay. This position, it is understood, reflects the administration view, and will be backed up by the argument that the currency bill will be subject to free an unlimited debate when it reaches the senate.

The president's friends in congress insist that there will be no more serious hitch in the currency program and that legislation will be enacted at least by the latter part of November.

In the meantime, both houses of congress will enjoy what vacation they can get through three day sessions, while the senate committee members work on the currency problem.

Work on Tariff.
The house and senate conferees at work adjusting differences in the tariff bill will resume work tomorrow in the hope that the completed conference report can be brought back to both houses by Thursday or Friday.
Some of the more important controversies over the tariff rates have not been settled, and the conferees still have before them practically all of the amendments to the income tax section; the Clarke cotton futures tax;

INSURANCE VICTIMS MAKE COMPLAINTS

MISS EMMA R. WELLINGTON

Persons who purchased bogus insurance policies from the late George E.
Williams, of Boston, Mass., whose death revealed an indebtedness of more than $1,000,000 and that he had been leading a double life, have complained to the Insurance Commissioners, and the Connecticut Mutual Insurance Company, of which he was the agent, may be forced to honor the policies, amounting to $300,000. Williams' system, while posing as an agent of the Connecticut company, was to make out bogus policies and keep the premiums.

The authorities still are searching for Miss Emma R. Wellington, Mr. Williams' confidential secretary for sixteen years, who was bequeathed $25,000 in his will.

BUILD NURSES' HOME

BOARD OF REGENTS OF STATE UNIVERSITY APPROPRIATE $65,000.

Is Available at Once—John Seley Has Given $80,000, Making
Total $145,000.

Austin, Sept. 21.—It was announced today by President S. E. Mezes of the University of Texas, that the board of regents in their session Saturday voted to make the $65,000 appropriated by the legislature to build a nurses' home at Galveston in connection with the John Seley Hospital, available at once.

John Seley already has appropriated $80,000, which makes $145,000 available at once for the erection of an elegant state home for the trained nurses. An oversight is responsible for the announcement being made a day later.

LYNCHING NEAR FRANKLIN

Austin, Tex., Sept. 21.—Infuriated because of the killing of Tom Rushing, 27 years old, a brother of Will Rushing, sheriff of Robertson county; Tom Hodges, 30 years, and the wounding of Will Maxwell, citizens of the county, have organized a mob and are on the way to the Rushing farm, ten miles north of Franklin, this afternoon about 3 o'clock.

The lynching of Davis occurred only a few hours after the negro had killed the two men and wounded Maxwell.
Hodges was shot by Davis after an altercation which took place at the negro quarters on the farm.

Attracted by the report of the negro's pistol, Rushing and Maxwell went to investigate. Davis opened fire upon them. The news of the killing of the two men was telephoned to Franklin and a crowd of citizens started immediately for the farm on their mission of vengeance.

Central Texas Conference.

Temple, Sept. 21.—The date for holding the Central Texas Conference of the Methodist church in this city, which was originally set for the week commencing November 12, has been changed to one week earlier by Bishop James Atkins, who will preside at the conference, which will now begin on November 5. The decision to change the date was made after a comference was held with the presiding elders of the district on the subject.
The delegates and visitors to the conference will be given a royal entertainment by the people of Temple.

Washington Feels Huerta Virtually Agrees Not to Be Candidate.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Administration officials today received the statement made today by Provisional President Huerta to newspaper men in Mexico that it "would be an anomaly for the government to have a candidate," as tantamount to a declaration that he would not be a candidate himself in the coming elections.
The United States has taken the position ever since the second Gambointention of invading Mexico and that means must be adopted to circumvent an influx of people who are not wanted.
As a concession to Americans, General Calzada said that he would issue passes to persons recognized by the American military authorities, to those who had unquestionable reasons for wanting to enter Mexico.
In view of the constitutionalists' answer to the protest efforts are being made to have Eagle Pass and Brownville closed as ports of entry.
This action would prevent supplies reaching Mexican towns on the Texas border except through Laredo, which is controlled by the federals. Much ill feeling exists as a result of the incident, and American merchants are clamoring for retaliation on the part of the government, owing to the great loss of trade due directly to the tax.

HUERTA DECLARES HE HAS NO CHOICE

SAYS GOVERNMENT FAVORS NO CANDIDATE IN RACE FOR PRESIDENCY.

WILL PREVENT DISTURBANCES

Elections Will Be Held Fairly, Even if Use of Army is Necessary.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Lieutenant Colonel Francisco Cardenas, alleged by the constitutionalists of Mexico to have been the assassin of Francisco I. Madero, former president of Mexico, has himself been assassinated, according to a dispatch received at the headquarters of the constitutionalists here.
The advices state that Cardenas was killed at Michoacan, whither he had been sent by Provisional President Huerta to take command of federal troops.

He was assassinated, it was said, for fear he might reveal the orders he received on the night of February 22, when Madero was killed and Cardenas was in command of the soldiers conveying Madero from the national palace to the prison in Mexico City.

Huerta's Statement.

Mexico City, Sept. 21.—Not only would it be an anomaly if the government should have a candidate but it can be further said that the government has no predilection for, nor will it aid, any candidate.

In these words Provisional President Huerta today replied to the question as to whether he favors a candidate in the coming presidential elections.
The interrogation was prompted by the speculation which has been freely indulged that General Huerta intended to throw his support to this or that man for the presidency to succeed himself.

President Huerta received the newspaper men at Pothota, a suburb where he is erecting a residence and where for the most part he resides. He explained the attitude which the administration will maintain, especially in the present circumstances "as one of absolute impartiality" and added that it would only take precautions to prevent any disturbances of public peace and order and would suppress any effort in that direction.

The president said he would use the army, if necessary, to keep order, but pointed out that the army in such event could not be said to be discharging a duty imposed by politics, but would be acting solely for the maintenance of democratic institutions.

"I want to declare on the candidature in the face of the whole nation," said General Huerta, "that I shall comply with the obligations I have assumed.
These have for their basis peace and the security of the republic leaving always complete freedom to the diverse political parties to launch candidates and other work towards trying to reach a happy conclusion of their ideals without aid or impediment from the government."

The Catholic party held its convention behind closed doors late today.
Its official organ, the Reconstruccion, declared that the choice of a candidate was made.

Steamer Benito Arrives.

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 21.—The Steamer Benito Juarez arrived today from Mexico City, bringing other Mexican ports with fifty passengers.
One of them, Dr. Charles W. Bean, who has been practicing medicine for years at Mochitica, Hui, Simala, said he left the country on the advice of Consul Stratton of Manzanillo. Conditions were becoming intolerable. A.
E. Urquiza, on the receiving end of torture, said he came north because disturbed conditions compelled him to abandon his work.

Other passengers said that fighting was in progress in the vicinity of Topocampo when they left. The rebels are flooding the country with necrobury and threaten to shoot anyone who refuses to accept it.

Mazatlan is reported to be the objective of a force of several thousand constitutionalists, but officers of the Benito Juarez say all was quiet there when they left and the federals were strengthening the defenses of the city.

CALLS CALIFORNIA LAW SEDITION

THEN VETERAN W. W. DUDLEY SUGGESTS CLEBURNE CAMP
APPROVE IT.

PROPOSITION IS REFERRED

Action of Governor and Legislature Parallel for Provocative That Caused Civil War.

Characterizing the action of the legislature and governor of California in passing and approving the alien law as "an assertion of state sovereignty," and comparing this action to the cause which created the Confederate army, W. W. Dudley yesterday called upon Pat Cleburne Camp, United Confederate Veterans, to pass resolutions approving the action and extending congratulations to the legislative body and chief executive of that state.

Speaking to "the good of the order," Mr. Dudley called attention to the bill enacted by the California legislature some time passed and approved by the governor of that state in the face of opposition from the national government, which bill had as its purpose the prevention of ownership of lands in that state by Orientals.

Calls it State Sovereignty.
He said that he considered this action an assertion of state sovereignty and that it was directly in line with the action of the Confederate states in their assertion of state rights. He said no Confederate camp in the country had seen fit, or had not considered the matter, and he thought it fitting that the Cleburne Camp should pass resolutions of approval. He requested the chair to support a committee to draft and present such resolutions at the next meeting.

Mills Seeks Politics.
Commander Scott E. Mills, who presided at the meeting, stated that Mr. Dudley's proposal had not been acted upon and that he thought it well to take it up and consider any resolutions that a committee might draft before excluding it. He stated further that if after the resolution was presented, it could be amended so that it would be a political one, and that action or reference to politics by the camp were prevented, and rightly so by the constitution.

Mayfield Opposes It.
Mr. Mayfield declined a place on the committee, stating that he did not think it wise for the camp to mix up in such matters. He reviewed the history of the alien land law of California, stating that it was passed in the face of opposition from President Wilson, and that the chief executive of the nation had been so strongly opposed to the law that he had dispatched his secretary of state to California to protest against the passage of the bill. He said he was not in sympathy with any commendatory resolution, not that he opposed the measure so much as from a desire to keep the camp out of such. He said that if a resolution to that effect was passed it would bring the camp into national-wide publicity, and if that was what was sought it could be attained. He insisted that his name be withdrawn. Chairman Mills, however, repeated his statement that the resolution when presented could be considered, and declined to remove Mr. Mayfield from the committee.

Fears is Revolutionary.
Bradford Hancock expressed the opinion that any such action at the hands of the camp was against the constitution. However this will be thrashed out when the resolution is presented at the next meeting.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Chaplain Wm. Lumbdin. The application for membership of John L. Starke, formerly of San Antonio, was accepted. Report of the Quartermaster, John Moore, showed a balance of $50.40 on hand. Report of Adjutant Bradford Hancock showed collections of $11.75 for the day. The report of the largest number of members in some months. A prominent resident of the city and a confederate placed a $5 bill in the collection plate, saying: "This is the largest amount I have ever given and I want to make up for it if I can with this."

Sick Committee's Report.
The sick committee reported that Westley Dodson was still ill. Also that S. E. Carothers, who has been confined to his bed for some months on account of an attack of pneumonia, was recovering and was expected to be discharged in a few days. A fall, and as a result will be crippled.

The camp also filled the office of history. This position was not filled at the last meeting when officers for the ensuing year were elected. Westley Dodson was re-elected to the place. Following his election Commander John Moore presented in his articles read before the camp, and it would be a loss to the body if this feature were discontinued.

Experience of the war was recited by Wm. Lumbdin, W. W. Dudley and Bradford Hancock.

WILL REVIEW TROOPS.
Largest Aggregation of Mounted Men Since Late Sixties.
Washington, Sept. 21.—President Wilson will give an opportunity during the first week of October to review the largest aggregation of mounted troops of the regular army that has assembled in Washington since the grand review in the late sixties of the seasoned veterans led by Generals Grant, Sherman and Sheridan. This aggregation, consisting of the tenth, eleventh and fifteenth regiments of cavalry, has been encamped at Winchester, Va., since the middle of July and will break camp October 1.

It is planned to have these regiments march to Washington where the president may review them. During their stay here they will be encamped at Fort Myer, Va., and at the Washington barracks. There are 3,000 men and horses in all. Their work at Winchester trying out various plans of troop, squadron, regimental and brigade formation and the latest drill and exercises as set down by the cavalry board, which studied European cavalry methods for some time, has put them in the finest condition.

Secretary Garrison and Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, returned tonight from Winchester, where they inspected the encampment and reviewed the troops.

EXPLAINS FATAL CRASH TO POLICE

LOTSHAW SAYS HIS BUGGY COLLIDED WITH THE MCKECHNIE VEHICLE.

UNAWARE OF FATAL RESULT

Fireman on Katy Declares He Was Ignorant of McKechnie's Death Until Yesterday.

The mystery encompassing the identity of the occupants of the vehicle with which the buggy in which Alexander McKechnie, his son, John, and a man named Garcia, were driving along the Corsicana road Saturday night collided, the McKechnie vehicle being wrecked and the aged man hurled forward upon the shafts and killed, was unveiled shortly after 8 o'clock last night.

Responding to a telephone call, Sergeant Frazier, who was on duty at the police station, was informed by a Mr. Lotshaw, a fireman on the M. K. & T. railroad, whose home is on the Corsicana road, that the Katy crossing, that it was his buggy into which the McKechnies, father and son, crashed. Mr. Lotshaw related that he was driving home, accompanied by his wife and children, when they observed another vehicle approaching from the opposite direction. Lotshaw said that the crash occurred so dark that neither himself nor his wife could discern anything more than the outlines of two figures behind the horse John McKechnie was driving until the two buggies were in close proximity. John McKechnie, he said, was urging forward the horses he was driving. The fireman declares that he shouted at the top of his voice to the occupants of the oncoming buggy to turn to the side of the road, which is narrow at that point, at the same time turning his own buggy as far as possible to the side, hoping thereby to avoid the imminent crash. He stated, further, that the McKechnies seemed to neither see his vehicle nor hear the warning cries of himself and Mrs. Lotshaw. The next moment the crash came. He was aware that some damage had been done to the buggy that had crashed into his, Lotshaw said, but the heavy cloak of darkness prevented him or Mrs. Lotshaw from seeing what had happened to the two men. They were under the impression that the wrecked buggy was occupied by a pair of youthful revelers, and had been causing the street to buzz with the noise of the collision came to them yesterday when they read of the fatality in The Morning News.

Mr. Lotshaw declared to the sergeant that he was ready to surrender himself if any charge should be leveled against him, but he protested that so far as himself and his wife were concerned, the accident was unavoidable. He added that the news of the aged man's death was a severe shock to both himself and his wife; that both were unutterably grieved and desired to express their most profound sorrow to the family and other relatives of the dead man.

Sergeant Frazier informed Mr. Lotshaw that an inquest would be held today by Justice J. M. Richey and advised him to appear before the justice with his wife and repeat the details of the accident. Mr. Lotshaw replied that he would bring his wife to the city early today and that they were ready to follow any course the police or the justice, in his official capacity as coroner, might suggest. This was satisfactory to Sergeant Frazier and no further action will be taken in the case until the inquest is held.

Witness Story.
Some further details were given to a Morning News reporter last night. According to the account of an eyewitness, John McKechnie turned out of the road to let an automobile pass, and drove into the buggy.

Will Connor, a farmer of the neighborhood, says that he was coming down the road on foot, a hundred feet or more behind the Lotshaw buggy, in which were McKechnie, Mrs. Lotshaw and their two children. He heard the crash when the two vehicles came together, and hurried to the spot.

He helped John McKechnie and Garcia put the elder McKechnie back into the buggy seat unaware that the latter had been killed, and then turned to a single buggy, which was smashed. The horse was giving trouble. When Mrs. Lotshaw and the children had been placed in safety, and the bodies of McKechnie and Garcia had been turned their buggy around and driven it back to the home of Jess Abbott, with the body of the elder McKechnie.

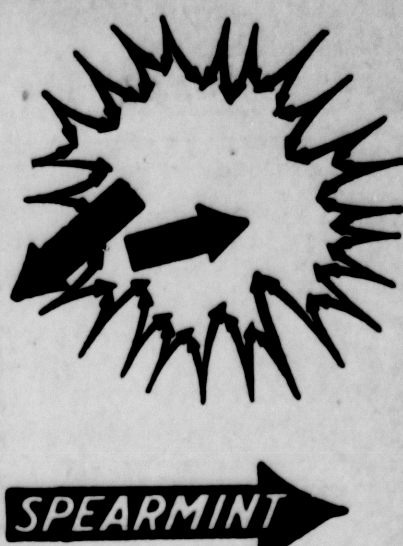

Connor said that he and Lotshaw thought probably that the old man was slightly hurt, but they did not know what to do. He said that he was driving close to the right side of the road, which was substantiated by the position of the buggy when Connor approached in front and the elder McKechnie shouting to his son to turn out, as an automobile was coming from behind. He said that he was driving close to the right side of the road, which was substantiated by the position of the buggy when Connor approached in front and the elder McKechnie shouting to his son to turn out, as an automobile was coming from behind.

The inquest will be held this morning by Justice of the Peace H. Richey. The funeral of Mr. McKechnie will be held this afternoon. Services will be held at John F. Hall undertaking establishment at 3 o'clock, interment at Oakwood cemetery.

TRIBUTE, GREATER THAN TO KINGS PAID TO NEW YORK'S DEAD MAYOR

Seventy-Five Thousand Citizens of All Classes Pass Bier in Double Line During the Day and Continue All Night.

New York, Sept. 21.—In a double line that never seemed to diminish as the day wore on, thousands of persons today filed through the flower-filled rotunda of the city hall and past the body of Wm. J. Gaynor, lying in state. Unmindful of a heavy downpour of rain in the morning, frequent showers during the afternoon and threatening skies tonight, the people came in a continuous stream, silently, to find places in the official line of the city and state, but for the most part the procession was made up from the great so-called middle class. About a fifth of the crowd was made up of women and children and many of the latter carried small wreaths or bouquets of flowers which they placed near the coffin.

At 9 o'clock the police on duty at the city hall estimated that more than 75,000 persons had viewed the body. The line was still forming at a late hour tonight and Mayor Kline issued an order to keep the rotunda open until 4 o'clock tomorrow morning if necessary, so that all who came might pay his tribute to the memory of his predecessor. Fully 100,000 persons, it is believed, will have viewed the body before the doors are closed.

"It is a remarkable tribute," Mayor Kline said as he reviewed the great crowd. "No king, no emperor ever had a tribute paid to him like this great outpouring of citizens today. It is a tribute from the hearts of the people."

Guard All Night.
All last night the police kept guard around City Hall park and had difficulty in keeping the crowds moving, as many tried at an inordinately early hour to get in line to view the body. Three policemen and three firemen in reliefs of a half hour stood rigidly at attention during the night beside the coffin, which was draped in the stars and stripes and the mayor's flag, while beneath could be seen the colors of the Union Jack, placed there at the request of the Gaynor family in recognition of the courtesy extended by the city of Liverpool upon the arrival of the mayor's body in this city after his death at sea.

Crosses branches of palms were the only floral decorations on the cover of the coffin. These branches were sent by the family. Behind the bier hung a draped picture of Mayor Gaynor. The bier rested on the same spot where the bodies of many famous men have laid in state. The last was that of Governor George Clinton, whose body after resting in the grave for many years, was removed to another cemetery and remained for a few hours in the city hall. Other noted men whose biers have rested beneath the dome of the city hall were Abraham Lincoln, General U. S. Grant, Horace Greeley and General Jose A. Paes, president of Venezuela.

Pathetic Incidents.
Pathetic incidents were numerous during the day and men and women whom the late mayor had befriended looked upon his face. Among these was a Brooklyn youth whose part the mayor took when it was alleged he was being persecuted by the police and which resulted in an investigation and also the removal of the boy's picture from the rogues' gallery. The first person to pass was a German baker, who had taken his place at the door after quitting work several hours previously. While the thousands journeyed down town to pay their respects in person, thousands of others attended memorial services in many churches in all parts of the city.

Tonight the rotunda of the city hall was almost filled with floral offerings from individuals and organizations from all parts of the United States and from foreign countries. One of these was sent by the lord mayor of Liverpool, who called that he would be represented at the funeral tomorrow by Max Muspratt, a former mayor of the English city.

At the Grace Methodist church the Rev. C. F. Felsner, the pastor, read a letter from former President Taft in which he said: "I count it as a great honor that Mayor Gaynor regarded me as his friend. There was no place in nation, state or city, judicial, executive or legislative which his qualities did not fit him admirably to fill."

Everything he did and said had the flavor of an attractive, aggressive and broadly liberal personality that will be and ought to be long remembered.

The public funeral services for Mayor Gaynor will be held from Trinity church at 11 o'clock tomorrow and will be conducted by Bishop Greco. Services for the overflow crowd will be held at St. Paul's Chapel a few blocks distant. The funeral procession will move from the city hall at 10:30 o'clock down Broadway to Trinity church. A regiment of police will lead the procession, in which also will be 200 firemen and delegations from every city department.

At noon the funeral procession will move from Trinity church to Brooklyn Bridge and thence to Greenwood cemetery, the place of interment.

NEGRO KILLS KEEPER.
Attempts to Break Prison and is Shot by Man He Kills.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 21.—In a desperate encounter with a negro convict who was trying to escape from the institution, Eli B. Stetter, a deputy keeper at the New Jersey state prison was shot by the prisoner this morning and died later at a hospital. The convict, Wm. Diamond, was shot twice in the arm by Stetter and is now in the prison hospital. He will be charged with murder as soon as he is able to appear in court.

Diamond and another convict, James Johnson, also a negro, had planned to escape together and asked for Dr. Crane, the prison physician, claiming they were sick. As the men were released from their cells, Johnson grabbed deputy keeper Pierson and Diamond wrenched from him his revolver. He opened fire on Stetter, who returned the fire, hitting Diamond and he and Dr. Crane grabbed Diamond and prevented him from firing again. Johnson plunged through a glass door and was so badly cut that he had to be taken to the prison hospital. Both prisoners were serving sentences for robbery.

DALLAS MAN IS FREED OF INCUBUS

After Forty Years Nature Forces Extracted Out of Earth Alone Were Used.

A wonderful thing happened according to a statement of Mr. T. J. Coffey, an employee of the city of Dallas, and whose home is 411 San Jacinto street. He says he is free of an incubus now for the first time in forty years and that his freedom was brought solely by nature forces found in the new Texas earth fluid Vitalitas.

He has driven from me kidney and bladder troubles and an eczema in the form of a tetter which has been with me for forty years. This tetter was on my face and hands. My kidney and bladder trouble was with me five years and was growing worse all the time. I thought it would get me sooner or later. Vitalitas is the most wonderful medicine I have ever taken. I am so much better in every way and feel myself a new man."

Vitalitas is revolutionizing the medicine habit in thousands of Texas homes. It is a nature way of putting new vitality into depleted and weakened systems and of driving out many of the most troublesome ailments known to man. Even where everything else has failed Vitalitas is effective. All derangements of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood are relieved or constitutionally cured by this new earth fluid. It has no harmful ingredient. A child or delicate invalid may take it. It is fully guaranteed. You can sample Vitalitas today and see an interesting display of it at the Powers-Kelly Drug Co.

note was received by John Lind that Huerta had eliminated himself from the presidential race, but today's dispatch admittedly brought to administration officials the first concrete expression of his intention. The tenor of Provisional Huerta's remarks that his government would maintain an attitude of "absolute impartiality" was interpreted by many officials as a general compliance, morally at least, in the proposals made by John Lind for the elimination of Huerta and the holding of a fair election. In many quarters, among constitutionalists and others familiar with the situation who have shown constantly a disposition to doubt General Huerta's motives the news made little impression. The view was expressed that Huerta had pronounced himself as impartial merely to remove the suspicion of favoritism support to the candidacy of one whom he might secretly favor. General Huerta's mention of the army as guarding the polls evoked the comment that in such manner Huerta would exercise covert control over the electoral machinery.

By all in administration circles who heard the news, however, it was agreed that subterfuge or circumvention of the promises implied in Provisional President Huerta's declarations today would be increasingly difficult and that the United States and foreign nations generally, with which it has influence, probably would be inclined to hold the Huerta government rigidly to its own announced program.

The general feeling was that Huerta's promises if carried out meant the domination not only of himself, but of other government officials, including Federico Gamboa, Mexican foreign minister, suggested as the probable choice of the Catholic party.

The effect of these promises, though not made in diplomatic channels, is likely to be of considerable importance, as there is a growing tendency in Europe, from information received in Washington, to act hereafter in accordance with the United States, awaiting Her action, before extending recognition to the government resulting from the next election.

Officials in Mexico are fully cognizant that only by the conduct of a free election will recognition be extended by the United States. There is a possibility, too, that this country might ask other nations to withhold recognition if the election were not a proper one from their viewpoint. This aspect of the situation was fully discussed today in diplomatic circles.

United States Interested.
The United States government is taking more than a passive interest in the developments in Mexico City during the last few days, chief among which has been the defiant opposition by a majority of the Mexican congress to the appointment of Eduardo Tamariz, one of the leaders of the Catholic party, to the ministry of public instruction.

The opening of a fight by the liberals in congress to repress the influence of the Catholic party in governmental affairs is looked upon here as likely to force a crisis and to reawaken an issue bitterly fought from time to time in the life of southern republics.

Constitutionalists here declare the Mexican people would never brook a return of the church to a share in the government and they view the proposal of Huerta to place Tamariz in the department of public instruction as virtually turning over the educational system of the country to the clergy.

In Close Touch.
Administration officials here are keeping in close touch with the progress of affairs in the Mexican capital and they hope the present movement there will be the forerunner of a peace program initiated by the liberal element in congress to insure a fair election.

The attitude of the United States in the meantime is a waiting one, but John Lind, still in Vera Cruz, is in communication constantly with the officials here and may be called upon at any moment to present new proposals or reiterate in kindly way the desires of the United States.

Though there are many persons here conversant with the Mexican situation, the attitude of the United States in the meantime is a waiting one, but John Lind, still in Vera Cruz, is in communication constantly with the officials here and may be called upon at any moment to present new proposals or reiterate in kindly way the desires of the United States.

Movement in Torreon.
El Paso, Sept. 21.—Gen. Venustiano Carranza has ordered the movement to Torreon of nearly all of the rebel forces in the state of Chihuahua.

He will take part in a combined attack on that city, according to the rebel junta advisers here tonight. Col. Maclovio Herrera, with 1,100 men already has departed from Jimenez, Chihuahua, for Torreon and within a few days Gen. Manuel Chao and Col. Rosendo Hernandez with 3,000 rebels will begin the march towards Torreon.

On a recent visit to Parral, Chihuahua, appointed Chao as commander of all rebel forces in South Chihuahua. He mapped out his future plans for the Chihuahua rebels. They are to attack Torreon and if successful the entire force will move northward to Chihuahua City. He forbade an attack by rebels on Ciudad Juarez in order to prevent any controversy with the United States which might arise in case of a battle at the border town.

FIGHT IN STREETS.
Many Heads Broken in Irish Strike Riots.

Dublin, Sept. 21.—Dublin's streets were the scene again today of a battle between the police and strikers. Many heads were broken. Thirty-five civilians and seven policemen are now in hospitals as the result of the engagements and many others were treated for minor injuries. The number of men in Dublin either on strike or locked out is about 20,000. They have many supporters and are in a savage spirit. In the rioting today the police used their clubs freely and the rioters retaliated with bottles and other missiles so fiercely that one of the mounted force was knocked from his horse and severely injured and several foot policemen were carried off on stretchers.

Many strike parades were held, the fleeing workmen and their allies marching through various parts of the city. Liberty Hall was converted into a strike headquarters. Street cars were held up and all but wrecked.

Coal Strike Ends.
Columbus, O., Sept. 21.—Three thousand coal miners of the Hay City and Saginaw, Michigan, district will go back to work Tuesday after a week's idleness as the result of a conference held here tonight between representatives of the miners and operators.

John P. White, international president of the mine workers, was named arbitrator of the dispute which will be held before him Thursday at his headquarters in Indianapolis. The unofficial walkout of the miners started last Monday following the dismissal of three miners. President White will decide whether the dispute is subject to arbitration and if not will act as judge of the conditions which led to the discharge of the miners.

William Hammond's View.

William Hammond said: "It appears that the absorbing topic of the day, so far as Waco is concerned, is that we must organize our plans and ideas, and have a city hall in keeping with the other portions of our now thriving, growing and beautiful little city. I say city, because Waco is every day showing undisputed evidence of being in the city class. One has only to open his eyes, and glance in almost any direction to see evidence of progress, improvement and onward movement, and permanent structures are rapidly taking place of the ancient ones, and it is only natural that the public-spirited, broad-minded, full-feeling citizens and people in general of Waco should heed the call at this time for a new city hall. I am heartily in favor of such being built in keeping with Waco's general appearance, not only at this time, but we should look ahead, and foresee what Waco will be twenty-five years hence. It will rank at the head of our glorious Texas cities, and Texas is bound to rank at the top in comparison with the other states of the Union. Then, why not have a city hall that will be adequate, convenient, sanitary, attractive and serviceable, something that we cannot say for our present structure, and the longer it stands the more obsolete and out of date it will grow, and it will be slipping backward, and should be relegated to the rear at this time. If we had a new, modern city hall and special rooms to meet the demand of our officers, it would be economical to the city to undertake it at the present time. If we had such a city hall we could entertain conventions, and reach out and invite them. We might be known as the Convention City of Texas, for we are centrally located, and are today the most attractive residence city of the state. Waco has beautiful residences, drives, parks, and now that we have so many nice, modern, paved streets, we should have a few modern buildings in keeping. We should not be stingy or grudging because we are mere taxpayers, for the returns will more than pay for the small increase, if there is an absolute necessity for an increase."

"We are now about to shake hands almost daily with 200,000 people, by being linked together by means of our interurban, which will reach all the popular cities of North and Central Texas. This will make a daily influx into this city. The advertising that we will gain from such a building, or even from the fact that it is known that we are to have such a building, will be wonderful to conceive."

"There can be only one view on the opposing side of this question, and that is a consideration of few thousand dollars, which with the added property advancement and new business, will far offset the little temporary expenditure, and I feel that we cannot, in this day of general improvement, allow such a good thing, and a new city hall is undoubtedly a good thing, to slip, and I would like to see one six stories high, with elevator service, steam heated, tile floors, and constructed of steel, that will be a monument to the city, and a service for the next two hundred years. Let us in this day build something down to our posterity, and let this be accomplished, and have our city hall ready before 1915, then thousands of people will be passing through our city en route to the big San Francisco exposition, celebrating the opening of the Panama canal, which will only remind us that some day in the course of the next few years, we ourselves will have a navigable river, and our city hall at the head of navigation will be adequate to care for all requirements."

George Hunter, Smith, said: "To erect a city hall now commensurate and in keeping with the city's importance and prospective growth and development, and of the permanence, elegance and beauty that should characterize such a structure, would require an outlay of a million dollars or more. We are not ready to incur such expense now, considering our obligations and burdens of street improvement, coupled with our obligations to provide adequate sewerage disposal, required by the state law, one quite pertinently referred to by Dr. W. R. Morrison, the initial cost of which I think, however, he has underestimated two or three hundred thousand dollars."

"When built, and I may say here by way of parenthesis that Waco should be careful not to trifle and piddle away the opportunity which the erection of such a building would add to her architectural, civic and aesthetic beauty, that would be like Esau trifling away his birthright for a mess of pottage. It should occupy not less than two continued blocks on the river front or in the heart of the city, combined with a market house on the order of the Houston market house and city hall, the greatest sight and show place of that great city. Such a structure would be not only a thing of beauty and a joy forever, but a fitting architectural gem and climax of art with which to adorn and embellish the end of Austin street and the river front to which our people could indeed point with pride and satisfaction."

"And besides being of great commercial value, it would in the largest and best, the aesthetic sense, be both directly and indirectly a revenue bearer, and thus in part at least self-sustaining to our city."

"I am advised that the city has no correct right and title to the land on which the present city hall stands, so that should be razed to the ground and the ground revert to the people, for a plaza in accordance with the wishes and purposes of its original donor."

"That Waco is badly in need of a market square does not admit of argument, the location and cost only are points for consideration. Now, at this the opportune time, the property fronting about 300 feet on Washington street between Torbett alley and the river, and running back 500 feet to Barron branch can be had at a very moderate cost, as the buildings thereon are of little or no value, and only two owners are interested, both of whom are broad gauged, progressive citizens, and vitally interested in the development of Waco. This property is especially fitted for a market square on account of its central location for both East and West Waco, being within one block of the street car bridge and adjoining the Washington street bridge, making it easily accessible to city and county patrons from all directions."

With North First street open through its center sixty feet wide and providing 250 square feet to each wagon, 400 wagons can be placed in lines with easy ingress and egress with abundant room between for buyers and sellers of the vast crops of farm products of this, the richest valley in the world. Market square will also provide an attractive entrance to the much desired river side to Cameron park; and landings for all kinds of river craft when the dam is finished, which is now nearing completion. The same area in any other location will cost far more to purchase, and have many owners with whom to deal, and many buildings to destroy."

A part of the property is now and has been in litigation for a long time at some expense to the city, which can be settled by purchase and settled now. A market square can now be had for less than fifty thousand dollars that will cost many thousands a few years hence. McLennan county citizens need this property now and will need it more every year, and it should be secured without further delay."

The present city hall can be enlarged for twenty-five thousand dollars to meet all demands until such time as Waco can afford an expensive building, either at its present location or on Austin, Washington or Franklin streets, as the growth of the city may demand as an entire square is not needed for a city hall. "Now is the accepted time" to acquire the land for a market square while it can be had; buildings can be constructed at any time."

"WHY I ATTEND CHURCH"

By Hon. Claude Weaver, Member of Congress From Oklahoma in Leslie's Illustrated Weekly.

It is sweet on a summer's morning, when the air is aquiver with the love songs of the birds and fragrant with the odor of roses blown, to hear the music of churchgoing bells, an invitation to the world-weary to enter God's temple and find peace because the instinct of worship is in the heart of man and the church is the temple the living God.

I go to church because I find peace there, that peace which De Quincy described as a resting from human labors, a Sabbath of repose, a respite granted from the secret burdens of the heart, as if I stood at a distance and aloof from the uproar of life; as if the tumult and fever and strife were suspended; as if there brooded over me a dove-like and hallowed calm.

I go to church because I love the music that I hear there, the mighty roll of the great organ, mingled with the marvelous symphonies of that divine stringed instrument, the human voice, untwisting all the chains that tie the hidden soul of harmony.

I go to church because I delight to hear the teachings of the preacher, whose soul is dedicated to God, whose field is as wide as God's universe, whose theme is the destiny of man and whose words are the oracles of Fate. Marvelous is the spell of the preacher to whom God has given genius and consecration and the power of illustration drawn from the old, sacred, immortal Book, and from the miracles of nature, no less revealed in the crimson-tipped flower turned up by the plowshare of Robert Burns upon the soil of Ayr than in the long reaches of the star-kirt skies.

I go to church because the "way is dark and I am far from home" and because the church is the polar star to light my pathway in the rayless night.

I go to church because the church ministers not only to the spiritual but also to the material needs of life, and because it is there that the charities that soothe and heal and bless are scattered at the feet of men like flowers.

I go to church because in that atmosphere vice and crime wither and die. I go to church because I hear the teachings of the philosophy of Jesus, the incomparable man; and if you say His teaching is philosophy and not religion and that He was a man and not a God, then the philosophy of that man has redeemed the world from savagery and blessed mankind with Christian civilization, and, to my mind, it is a thing worth while to hear.

I go to church because I find there consolation and hope; because I see there the dawn and not the sunset; and it is better for man, if the hope is baseless and the vision but an elusive phantom, to cherish a dream so glorious and beautiful than to be weighed down and crushed with the quarried mountains of a world without hope and without God.

ROADS IN BAD SHAPE

DURING RAINY WEATHER RUTS WERE CUT WHICH REMAIN.

China Springs Business Shows Decreased Increase—Catching Up With Cotton Picking.

China Springs, Sept. 21.—Since the fair weather has set in everything is back to normal. Cotton picking, ginning and business in general. During the rainy spell roads in the vicinity of China Springs became very bad, and the hauling over them during bad weather cut great ruts which have never filled in. It is thought if they had been well dragged just after the rains they would have been much better.

The Mothers' club of China Springs at a recent meeting took upon themselves an obligation to do much needed repair work on the school building. They gave an ice cream supper at the tabernacle. These worthy women are sure to receive the co-operation of the entire community.

Prof. Frank Sharp and wife, who have been employed as principal and teacher in the public school, have arrived on the scene of action and are ready to begin at any time the trustees of her friends and associates on learned when the other two young ladies, who are to teach in the school, will arrive. In all probability school will not open for several weeks owing to the cotton picking.

Miss Thelma Lincoln, the 14-year-old daughter of W. H. Lincoln, hogger, gave a birthday party to fourteen of her friends and associates on Friday afternoon. Games of various kinds were indulged, refreshments were served and all present report a delightful time.

G. D. Harris is spending a few days at Pine Hills, Texas, on business.

Miss Amy York left Monday for Post City, near which place she will teach during the winter.

Misses Mary and Ruby Scott left the first of the week for Denton, where they will enter the state normal.

Miss Bona Adams left Monday for Rising Star, where she will spend the fall and winter.

CONFESSES TO MURDER

MAN ARRESTED FOR MINOR OFFENSE IN PHILADELPHIA HAS STRANGE STORY.

Declares Is Slayer of Anna Schumacher in Rochester Cemetery Two Years Ago.

Philadelphia, Sept. 21.—Conscience-stricken, Jacob Wolfsohn, under arrest here on a charge of larceny, has confessed to the killing of Anna Catherine Schumacher, who was brutally murdered in a Rochester, N. Y., cemetery four years ago, according to Captain Cameron of the Philadelphia detective bureau.

"I tried to kiss her and she resisted," Wolfsohn is alleged to have told Captain Cameron and several detectives. "When I grabbed her she screamed, but no one heard her and I strangled her. Then I attacked her and dragged her body to the woods in the cemetery, where I found grave digger's spade, with which I dug a hole large enough to place the body."

Wolfsohn, according to his guards, paced his cell for several hours last night before he asked for paper and pencil.

When these were supplied, it is stated, he wrote a note to the district attorney asserting that he was responsible for the girl's death. Later, the detectives declare, he told of the killing in detail.

According to the detectives, Wolfsohn said he first saw the girl placing flowers on a grave in the cemetery, that he flirted with her and that she smiled. He then made an appointment to meet her on the day she was killed. Wolfsohn is quoted as saying:

Today the police say Wolfsohn repeated the story substantially as he related it to the detectives last night with the exception that he retraced the statement that the girl flirted with him.

After the murder he told the detectives he went to New York, where he married Miss Ida Berne. She obtained a divorce last May, Wolfsohn said, and shortly afterward he returned to Philadelphia. According to the authorities Wolfsohn was arrested on complaint of a manager of the company by which he was employed as a window cleaner on a charge of stealing.

Captain Cameron notified the Rochester authorities and this afternoon received notice that Sheriff Hamill and District Attorney Barrett will arrive here tomorrow. The startling story told by Wolfsohn, Captain Cameron said, led him to have two police surgeons examine the prisoner and they reported that the man appeared to be mentally sound.

Wolfsohn tonight attempted to commit suicide in his cell in the city hall, according to a report from police headquarters. He was discovered tearing his clothing into strips by the turnkey and when his cell was searched an improvised rope was discovered. The prisoner has been placed under close watch.

Are Not Impressed.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Police officials here are not deeply impressed by the declaration of Jacob Wolfsohn in Philadelphia that he murdered Anna Schumacher. However, Sheriff Harley Hamill and District Attorney John W. Barrett have left for Philadelphia and will make a thorough investigation. There are numerous discrepancies in his story. Wolfsohn at one time was a trusted employee at a department store here, but was arrested when more than $500 worth of stolen property was found in his possession. In police court he got off with a fine.

Boston 2-8, St. Louis 0-1.
St. Louis, Sept. 21.—Boston defeated St. Louis in both games of today's double header, winning the first 2 to 0 and the second 3 to 1. The opening contest early resolved itself into a pitcher's battle between Perritt and Quinn. Leftfielder Connolly of Boston broke his right ankle while sliding into second base in the third inning of the first game and was removed to a hospital. The second game was dull, the locals playing miserably, both in the field and on bases. It was called at the end of the eighth on account of darkness.

REBEKAHS HEAR SPECIAL SERMON

PEOPLE OF MANY CREEDS GATHER IN CENTRAL CHURCH.

REV. F. N. CALVIN'S DISCOURSE

Pastor Commends the Great Work Being Done by Waco Rebekah Lodge—Reviews History.

A congregation made up of churchgoers of every religious denomination in the city and many non-church members, thronged Central Christian church yesterday morning. The unusual occasion was the celebration by the Waco Rebekah lodge of the sixty-second anniversary of the founding of the Odd Fellowship degree of Rebekah. By arrangement with the local lodge of which Mrs. J. M. Curry is noble grand, a special sermon appropriate to the observance of the anniversary was preached by Rev. F. N. Calvin, pastor of the church.

The celebration yesterday was confined to religious exercises, arrangements having been made to hold the social and festive features next Friday in Moose hall, where a "tacky party," dance, instrumental and vocal concert, with other amusements will be combined in a one-night affair.

Odd Fellows Attend.
Responding to the invitation extended to the Odd Fellows of Waco lodge to attend the services, a large number of the lodges attended the services in Central Christian church and united with the Rebekahs in the celebration yesterday. Rev. Calvin's sermon was an eloquent and scholarly discourse. Although he is not a member of the Rebekahs, the pastor's frequent references to the history, aims and objects of the order disclosed that he had in the few days notice given him acquired an intimate knowledge of the order that was agreeably surprising to the Rebekahs and their friends.

A Triple Text.
Mr. Calvin began by saying that he had chosen for the occasion a triple text, the basic principles upon which the Independent Order of Odd Fellows is founded, "Friendship, Love and Truth." The Biblical text he assigned to the first of these was: "Friendship—Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend," and "You are my friends if you do whatsoever I command you." 2. Love: "Love worketh no harm to his neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law." 3. Truth: "I have no greater joy than to hear that my children work in the truth. I am the Way, the Truth and the Life."

He explained at some length the significance of the annual celebration of the founding of the degree introduced to Odd Fellowship by Dr. Schuyler Colfax in Baltimore sixty-three years ago and dwelt upon the beautiful precepts of the Rebekahs.

Mission of Rebekahs.
"The work of the Rebekahs," said Mr. Calvin, is, first, to visit the sick; second, to relieve the distressed; third, to bury the dead; fourth, aid in establishing homes for the aged and indigent widows and orphans; and, fifth, to cultivate social life and fraternal relations among the members. This work rests upon the three principles that form the three links, the emblem of Odd Fellowship.

"When any person or body attempts to emulate friendship, love and truth in their lives they aspire to the noblest achievements possible to any man or woman. Just as soon as we can perfect these three graces in human life we will bring heaven to earth and the tabernacle of God will be established among men. I cannot tell you how great is the pleasure I experience in addressing a body of people who are making it the aim of their lives to illustrate in their daily lives practically these virtues."

The Worm of Selfishness.
"Selfishness is the worm that eats into the heart of true friendship. Your work tends to destroy selfishness." "Treating of the virtue of love," Mr. Calvin said, "When Jesus would sum up all law to God and man he said, 'Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, and thy neighbor as thyself.' And on these two commandments rest all the law and the words of the prophets. Love never faileth; love is greatest of all; love is the motive that prompts to action. It makes all service a pleasure. You cannot better employ your time and your energy than in learning to love."

"It is well in this age of sham and shoddy to have all who stand firm square and for the truth. Truth is that which is in harmony with all law. To live the truth is far more than to tell it in a straight. It is to be real, to speak reality, to act reality. It is to have a harmonious life and to try to help others to do the same. It is to recognize your own character and your neighbor's reputation. It is to de-throne deception, deceptive show and be real. In short, it is to live the Christ life." Jesus said, "I am the Way, the Truth." It was His life that gave the world its highest ideals of Friendship, Love and Truth."

Compliment the Pastor.
Officers of Rebekah lodge complimented Mr. Calvin highly and tendered their personal congratulations upon the superb sermon after the services. Arrangements for the festivities to be held next Friday are going forward rapidly under the direction of a committee of which Mrs. Curry, noble grand, and Miss Ada Thompson, vice grand, are in general supervision. It promises to be the most successful affair of the kind ever undertaken by the lodge.

BAYLOR OPENS TODAY

INCOMING TRAINS BRING GREAT STUDENT THROG TO WACO.

This Morning's Program Begins With Exercises in Chapel—Classes Open Wednesday.

Last night's trains lent their assistance in swelling the crowd of students who have arrived in the city for the opening of the sixty-ninth annual session of Baylor university this morning and the indications are that the enrollment will exceed the high record established a year ago. The advance reservation of boarding quarters has been larger than ever before. For several days reception committees, consisting of delegations from the two young men's societies, have been meeting every train that comes to the city and the incoming students have experienced no difficulty in getting acquainted and located.

Today's Program.
Today's busy program begins at 9 o'clock with a short chapel exercise to which every student who has arrived is expected to attend. It will be the first of the important announcements regarding the day's work and other matters connected with the launching of the new term. The task of classifying the pupils will occupy today and tomorrow. Due to the rush in university circles, incident to the classification, the reception that had been planned on the university campus to the faculty and students by the organizations of the First Baptist church for next Tuesday night has been postponed until Tuesday night, September 29.

Classes Begin Wednesday.
Formal opening of the new term will be had Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in Carroll chapel. There will be a few informal addresses by the new members of the faculty and a few musical contributions by representatives of the fine arts faculty, with a formal address by President Brooks, outlining in a way the policy and work of the university. While friends of Baylor are welcome at all of the exercises they are cordially invited to attend Wednesday morning's program. Immediately after the opening exercises of Wednesday the classes will meet to begin their active work.

NO WEDDING BELLS

FEAR OF OATH HALTS YOUTH BOUND FOR HYMEN'S SHRINE.

Chief Deputy Clerk Wallace Was So Suspicious He Asked Bridegroom-Elect to Swear.

Because the bridegroom-elect withdrew his application for a marriage license when called upon to swear that his bride-elect was of legal marrying age, the wedding of the young couple has been indefinitely postponed.

He was long and tall and lanky. One might judge that he had come from an inland town, not alone by his clothes, but his very manner of approaching the desk spelled unfamiliarity with strangers. He wanted a marriage license. In uncertain words he told his wants to Chief Deputy Clerk C. T. Wallace, who most often presides at the matrimonial counter of the county clerk's office.

"State your name and the name of the lady whom you desire to marry," prompted the clerk in his most official tones. He did so. "Is the lady of age?" asked the next interrogation. He answered slowly, "She is." Something, whether it was the hesitating manner in which he said "she is," or experience in judging acquired from long practice, induced the chief clerk to require the applicant to take the oath.

Oath Drives Him Away.
The oath to the marriage department of the county clerk's office is the last resort. Following the clerk's prompting he repeated the oath. At the end he paused, swallowed hard and said, "I don't believe I can swear to that." Instead he drew a "permit" from his inside vest pocket and handed the same to the clerk. The permit was a supposed to be consent of the lady's parents to the marriage. His official curiosity thoroughly excited, Clerk Wallace adjusted his spectacles, read the permit and again directed his gaze to the anxious would-be benedict. Something of a hint of the feminine attached itself to the document. This something caused the clerk to hesitate.

He Changes His Mind.
Hesitation broke the guard of the suitor. With confusion written on his countenance, he hastily reached for the "permit" and made his exit. And that is why a filled out certificate of marriage with the name of the county clerk attached, but minus the names of the contracting parties, is in the official marriage license book of McLennan county. The application was made but the would-be bridegroom failed to stand the "test" of the department.

INGRAM BEGINS REVIVAL SERVICES

PREACHES ON NECESSITY OF EFFORT TO GAIN SPIRITUAL BENEFIT.

LABOR ALONE BRINGS RESULTS

Congregation Is Urged to Be Diligent in the Meeting Now on Hand.

As previously announced Rev. E. E. Ingram preached the first sermon in the revival services to be held for the next two weeks. A large congregation was present and manifested considerable interest in what he had to say on the subject "How to Have a Revival." The text was from Mark 3:2, "And they came unto Him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four."

Everything in the world about us, he says, is based upon certain definite and well defined conditions. These must be faithfully observed if we would realize the desired end. Expressed in terms of philosophy this simply means that for every effect there is a cause. There is no such thing as haphazard in God's way of doing things. If we would get the gold and silver out of the mountains we must equip ourselves with proper tools and dig and blast and crush, and refine before the gold reaches its full value. One cannot sit on the side of the mountain and admire the scenery and listen to the rustle of the leaves and watch the scampering squirrels and get the gold and silver. If we would gather the corn and the wheat and the cotton we must observe the planting time and sow ourselves diligently all the time. This is the law of nature which suffers no deviation whatever.

And at the same time it is a law of God in the spiritual world. It is only when we measure up to its conditions in our soul lives that we realize our soul longings. This principle is as true in revival efforts anywhere else. A successful revival comes not by accident, but rather by the observance of certain well defined conditions and requirements. I shall today place the emphasis of this discourse upon one of these conditions. Unless this one is understood and observed failure is inevitable. The text and the context together furnish a splendid illustration of the condition I have in mind, which condition can be expressed in a single word—conviction.

If we would be sure of success in the effort we are beginning today, it must be by and through the realization that our loved ones and friends are lost so long as they fail to accept God's plan of salvation. I fear that this conviction is not so very deep with the most of us. We believe it. C. T. Wallace, who most often presides at the matrimonial counter of the county clerk's office.

Appeal Made for Sidewalks
With No Woods and Good Footing City Would Present Attractive Appearance.

To The Morning News.
Do you think it would add to the attractiveness of Waco if there was a walk in front of every lot in the city? Just a gravel walk, 3 feet wide and four inches thick with any kind of curbing to prevent the gravel washing away.

Suppose the boosters could cry aloud that Waco had good walks in front of every lot, and gravel and clay or sand is a good walk. Such a walk would be inexpensive, every one could afford to make such a walk. I know some "guy" will say, "My God, I can't afford to put a walk in front of all my lots. Why, I own two blocks out there on some street. If that party is financially able to own two or twenty blocks, he is able to make walks."

Such walks would prevent the weeds from occupying the space where walks should be, and allow people to walk where they are supposed to walk. I know our street commissioner should know, of supposed walks in well settled localities, not a great distance from the business portion of the city that weeds and bushes force the people to walk "in the middle of the road."

Certain parties in Waco might advance this walk idea, and four-fifths of the people would say, Good! Just the thing. But as I am not known as a booster nor in any other way except when taxes are payable I do not suppose my idea will be considered as worth thirty cents. No matter how it may be accepted or considered, I know it's good.

Belton Man to Represent Employers on Industrial Accident Board.

Accepts on Condition May Retire if Official Duties Interfere With Business.

Austin, Sept. 21.—O. P. Pyle was named today as the third member of the industrial accident board. He is an ex-president of the Farmers' Union and is now editor of the Belton Journal. He will represent the employers, the employees being represented by W. J. Moran, while the unprejudiced third member is ex-Governor Joseph D. Sayers, who is chairman.

Mr. Pyle accepts with the understanding that he is privileged to retire in the near future if the official labors prevent him from doing his business. The governor was agreeable to this and readily consented to Mr. Pyle's conditional acceptance.

half as zealous for our Lord and Savior as we are for our family physician, what a glorious work we will accomplish religiously. This old world needs something. Each individual knows that he too, needs something.

Under all skies men have sought to find a cure for sin. Culture has been tried again and again, but it has always brought us back to the starting point. Men have tried the sciences, but these have always brought us up to a stone wall. Science cannot make a man over again. It may lead him to see his weakness and realize his limitations, but it cannot prescribe the cure. We have tried reformation, but reformation is only skin deep. It does not touch the heart and therefore does not accomplish much. We have tried all kinds of healing balms for sinful souls, only to find them a dismal failure. These men in the text finally came to a wise conclusion, and that was that only Jesus Christ could cure their sinful hearts. They got to their knees and took him to the Lord. The result was a glorious blessing to all. If you will become possessed by this same conviction today, we may hope for a glorious awakening among the unsaved of this congregation.

There is a third angle of vision from which I wish to view this question of conviction. It is that it is your duty as well as your privilege to bring your loved ones and friends to Jesus Christ for healing. Suppose these men had depended upon some one else to do the thing they believed should be done. Suppose they should have waited for the high priest to bear him to Jesus, or suppose they had waited for members of the Sanhedrin to do it. You can easily imagine the result. Many a loved one has been lost because some one was waiting for some one else to do the thing both knew ought to be done. Fathers and mothers wait for the ministers and Sunday school teachers to do that which it is their duty to perform. This charge cannot be brought against us in anything else except religious matters.

Let me close with suggesting how we may bring the unsaved to the Lord. At the head of this catalogue of method I shall place prayer. No revival is possible without prayer. Next to prayer comes faith. "When Jesus saw their faith He said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee." And when he sees our faith He will speak the same loving message in behalf of the ones we bring to Him. To prayer and faith I add personal work. This is vital. These men waited and worked hard, and asked no one to do their duty for them. God always rewards personal work.

Do we really want a successful revival? We can have it if we will pay the price and that price is the three-fold conviction I have presented to you today—a conviction of need, a conviction that Jesus alone can meet that need, and a conviction that it is our duty to bring the unsaved to Him.

Mr. Ingram announced that instead of bringing some outside singers to assist him in the meeting he had engaged Mrs. J. G. Wren to do the solo work and lead the choir in the singing, and Mrs. J. W. Carroll as pianist. With the assistance of the choir it is hoped to make the music a prominent and pleasing feature of the meeting.

Commander Seth P. Mills announced at the meeting of the camp yesterday that the next meeting would be held Memorial Day, and he requested that all veterans and their families attend.

The Absent Comrades.
During the fiscal year twelve members of the local Confederate camp have died. In accordance with the custom of the camp the mortuary roll for the year was ready yesterday. The roll contains the following names: Thomas H. Killingsworth, Gabriel Keltner, George W. Call, Thomas Eagan, George I. Ross, Julius K. Hander, P. K. Wortham, J. T. Strain, Thomas C. Smith, John Taylor, James Torbett and J. G. Carroll.

Services in honor of the dead will be in charge of Chaplain Wm. Lambdin. A program, suitable for the occasion, will be prepared by the chaplain, music will be given and the proper services rendered.

Membership New 300.
In calling attention to the approach of Memorial Day Commander Mills reminded the surviving members of the camp that there were some 300 living members and about 500 dead ones. He said the custom formerly was to pass resolutions following the death of each member. This custom has given away to that of holding regular memorial services. He also asked each member to remember the fallen members and to attend the services.

Mr. Lambdin is to go to work at once preparing a program for the day. Elaborate preparations are being made for the day. Mr. Lambdin will devote a great part of his time during the month towards providing a program that will be fitting for the occasion. Something out of the ordinary will be given. He will endeavor to have a number of women on the program and in this he will ask the assistance of the Daughters of the Confederacy. At every meeting of the camp an especial invitation is for the Daughters to be in attendance and at almost all of the meetings a number of these are present. A feature of the day aside from the eulogy to the departed soldiers will be music furnished by some of the Daughters, and possibly a short address as well as an essay from some of the members thoroughly organized in the Daughters.

Pat Cleburne Camp is one of the state. Rain or shine the camp meets once a month. Interest in the organization is stimulated by some interesting address each meeting, so that almost every veteran of the Confederacy in the neighborhood is a member.
